Kansas City, MO – The Coterie Theatre continues its 40th season of live theatre for families and young audiences with Beat Bugs: A Musical Adventure, a new musical adaptation for families with all ages of the popular animated Netflix series, Beat Bugs. Beat Bugs: A Musical Adventure is directed by Jeff Church, with musical direction by Anthony T. Edwards and choreography by Marc Wayne, and will be performed live on The Coterie’s stage, April 16 - May 19, 2019.

THE PLAY
Meet the Beat Bugs – five insects who explore the world and pick up life lessons along the way in this new musical which incorporates songs made famous by The Beatles. Walter, Buzz, Jay, Crick, and Kumi embark on a mission to save Strawberry Fields from being taken over by a stink bug with other plans for it. Some of the songs from the iconic catalogue that appear in the show include “All You Need is Love,” “Come Together,” “Yellow Submarine,” “Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds,” “Strawberry Fields Forever,” “Eleanor Rigby,” and “With a Little Help from My Friends,” introducing a whole new generation to The Beatles.

Beat Bugs: A Musical Adventure is based on the popular animated Netflix series which won an Emmy in 2016, and is currently in its third season. Fans now get the chance to see their favorite characters live on stage in a musical that, like the series, incorporates songs from the Lennon/McCartney catalogue to tell uplifting stories filled with inspiring melodies. The Beat Bugs are charming, funny, adventurous, and have a knack for getting themselves into mischief and mayhem. They are best friends who band together to explore and learn in an overgrown suburban backyard, which - to them - is their entire universe.

Beat Bugs: A Musical Adventure will run approximately 65 minutes with no intermission and can be enjoyed by families with all ages. The Coterie is funded in part by the Missouri Arts Council, ArtsKC Fund, Theater League, and the Neighborhood Tourist Development Fund.
